FELLOWS' SYRUP.
Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.
It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.
In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.
Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.
In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonics to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,
JAMES I. FELLOWS.
Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.
Sold by all Druggists.

THE CHINESE TREATIES.

Full Text of the Documents.

The following is the full text of the treaties negotiated between our Government and that of China and now before the Senate for ratification:

Treaty Agreed Upon Between the Chinese and United States Commissioners, Nov. 5, 1880.

Whereas, in the eighth year of Hsien Feng, A. D. 1858, a treaty of peace and friendship was concluded between China and the United States, and to which were added, in the seventh year of Tung Chih, A. D. 1868, certain supplementary articles to the advantage of both parties, which supplementary articles were to be perpetually observed and obeyed; and,

Whereas, the government of the United States, because of the constantly increasing immigration of Chinese laborers to the territory of the United States and the embarrassments consequent on such immigration, now desires to negotiate a modification of the existing treaties which shall not be in direct contravention of their spirit; now,

Therefore, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China has appointed his commissioners plenipotentiary, and the President of the United States has appointed his commissioners plenipotentiary, and the said commissioners plenipotentiary, having conjointly examined their full powers, and having discussed the points of possible modification in existing treaties, have agreed upon the following articles in modification:

Article 1. Whenever, in the opinion of the government of the United States, the coming of Chinese laborers to the United States, or their residence therein, affects or threatens to affect the interest of the country or to endanger the good of the said country, or of any locality within the territory thereof, the government of China agrees that the government of the United States may regulate, limit or suspend such coming or residence, but

MAY NOT ABSOLUTELY PROHIBIT IT.

The limitation or suspension shall be reasonable, and shall apply only to Chinese who may go to the United States as laborers, other classes not being included in the limitation. The legislation taken in regard to Chinese laborers will be of such a character as is necessary to enforce the regulation, limitation or suspension of immigration, and immigrants shall not be subjected to personal maltreatment or abuse.

Art. 2. Chinese subjects, whether proceeding to the United States as teachers, students, merchants, or from curiosity, together with their body and household servants, and Chinese laborers who are now in the United States, shall be allowed to go and come of their own free will and accord, and shall be accorded all the rights, privileges, immunities and exemptions which are accorded to the citizens and subjects of the most favored nation.

Art. 3. If Chinese laborers or Chinese of any other class now either permanently or temporarily residing in the territory of the United States meet with ill treatment at the hands of any other persons, the government of the United States will exert all its powers to devise measures for their protection, and to secure to them the same rights, privileges, immunities and exemptions as may be enjoyed by the citizens or subjects of the most favored nation, and to which they are entitled by treaty.

Art. 4. The high contracting powers having agreed upon the foregoing articles, whenever the government of the United States shall adopt legislative measures in accordance therewith, such measures will be communicated to the government of China. If the measures, as enacted, are found to work hardship upon the subjects of China, the Chinese minister at Washington may bring the matter to the notice of the Secretary of State of the United States, who will consider the subject with him, and the Chinese foreign office may also bring the matter to the notice of the United States minister at Pekin, and consider the subject with him, to the end that mutual and unqualified benefit may result. In faith whereof, the respective plenipotentiaries have signed and sealed the foregoing at Pekin, in English and Chinese, being three originals of each text of even tenor and date the modifications, which shall be exchanged at Pekin within one year from date of its execution. Done at Pekin this —— day of November, 1880.

THE COMMERCIAL TREATY.

The President of the United States of America and his Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China, because of certain points of incompleteness in the existing treaties between the two governments, have named as their commissioners plenipotentiary, that is to say, the President of the United States, James B. Angell of Michigan, John F. Swift of California, and William Henry Trescott of South Carolina; His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China, Pao Chun, a member of his imperial majesty's privy council and superintendent of the board of civil offices, and Li Hung Tsao, a member of his imperial majesty's privy council, who have agreed upon and concluded the following additional articles:

Article 1. The government of the United States and China, recognizing the benefits of their past commercial relations, in order still further to promote such relations between the citizens and subjects of the two powers, mutually agree to give the most careful and favorable attention to the representations of either as to such special extension of commercial intercourse as either may desire.

Art. 2. The governments of China and of the United States mutually agree and undertake that Chinese subjects shall not be permitted to import opium into any of the ports of the United States, and citizens of the United States shall not be permitted to import opium into any of the open ports of China, to transport it from one open port to any other open port, or to buy or sell opium in any of the open ports of China. This absolute prohibition, which extends to vessels owned by the citizens or subjects of either power, to foreign vessels employed by them, or to vessels owned by the citizens or subjects of either power, and employed by other persons for the transportation of opium, shall be enforced by appropriate legislation on the part of China and the United States, and the benefits of the favored nation clause in existing treaties shall not be claimed by the citizens or subjects of either power, as against the provisions of this article.

Art. 3. His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China hereby promises and agrees that no other kind or higher rate of tonnage dues or on coastwise trade shall be imposed or levied in the open courts of China upon vessels wholly belonging to citizens of the United States, or upon the produce, manufactures or merchandise imported in the same from the United States, or from any foreign country, or upon the produce, manufactures or merchandise exported in the same to the United States, or to any foreign country, or transportation in the same from one open port of China to another, than are imposed or levied upon vessel cargoes of any other nations, or on those of Chinese subjects. The United States hereby promises and agrees that no other kind or higher rate of tonnage dues or duties for imports shall be imposed or levied in the ports of the United States, upon vessels wholly belonging to the subjects of his imperial majesty, and coming either directly or by way of any foreign port from any of the ports of China which are open to foreign trade to the ports of the United States, or returning therefrom, either directly or by way of any of the open ports of China, or upon the produce, manufactures or merchandise imported in the same from China or any foreign country, than are imposed or levied on vessels of other nations which made no discrimination against the United States, in tonnage dues, or duties on imports, exports or coastwise trade, or than are imposed or levied on vessels and cargoes of citizens of the United States.

Art. 4. When controversies arise in the Chinese empire between citizens of the United States and subjects of his imperial majesty, which need to be examined and decided by the public officers of the two nations, it is agreed between the governments of the United States and China that such cases shall be tried by the proper official of the nationality of the defendant. The proper authorized official of the plaintiff's nationality shall be freely permitted to attend the trial, and shall be treated with the courtesy due to his position. He shall be granted all proper facilities for watching the proceedings in the interest of justice. If he so desires he shall have the right to present, to examine and cross-examine witnesses. If he is dissatisfied with the proceedings he shall be permitted to protest against them in detail. The law administered will be the nationality of the officers trying the case.

In faith whereof, the respective plenipotentiaries have signed and sealed the foregoing at Pekin, in English and Chinese, being three originals of each text, of even tenor and date, the ratification of which shall be exchanged at Pekin within one year from date of its execution.

Done at Pekin, this — day of November, 1880. KUANG HSU!

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

Hon. Isaac Gross, of Turner, died at his residence in Turner, Wednesday morning, at the ripe age of eighty-four.

A Lewiston physician burned up $3,000 in uncollectable bills, that he had got tired of seeing about the office, recently.

Mr. David Stetson, of Auburn, sustained a bad sprain of the ankle by a horse stepping on his foot, while he was teaming in the woods, a few days ago.

An Auburn man and his wife have been so driven by business that they have set up nights to make sausages, and haven't had over four hours' sleep any night since October. They chopped 250 pounds of sausage meat, Thursday P. M.

Mr. John Hanley, an employee of the Androscoggin Mills, went on the roof, Friday, to show a man about shoveling off the snow. About the first step he took, he went down through a skylight. In his efforts to stop his descent, the broken glass severely lacerated his right wrist, narrowly missing the main artery. It is a bad injury.

A five year old child of Geo. Burnham, of Leeds, fell into a tub of hot water, a few days ago, and was very dangerously scalded.

The champion woman-farmer of Maine, so far as heard from, is a woman at Minot Centre, who has herself cut and yarded ten cords of sled-length wood, this winter! She is a stout, strong, Scotch woman, about 35 years of age, with a hand like a New York alderman's. Her husband is living, but past hard work, being over 70 years of age. She carries on successfully a large farm, doing nearly all the work herself. She comes to market in Lewiston, frequently, and is shrewd at a bargain. She allows the old gentleman to lead a slippered life, while she lets her own broad shoulders bear all the burden, and enjoys it.—Lewiston Journal.

Cumberland.

The Oriental powder mills, at Gambo, are running briskly and have orders for all the powder they can make.

During the drouth last fall Sebago Lake was lower than for many years, and a number of very large teeth of some animal long ago native of Maine forests, were found imbedded in the sand at low water mark. The largest were about three inches long by two wide. It is believed they belonged to the moose.

The manager of the Grand Trunk railway has solicited an interview with the railway committee of Bridgton. The latter have reported in the affirmative, and will meet with him next Tuesday, at Norway.

Mr. John Devine and Mr. Frank Harding, of Gorham, fell down their respective cellar stairs and cut their heads badly.

Mr. J. C. Summersides, of Gorham, fell and cut one ear in two, recently.

Franklin.

A nice new hall has recently been fitted up by Mr. Ranger, of Fairfield Mills, who very kindly opened it for a public temperance meeting, Thursday evening, when a lodge of Good Templars was instituted by M. J. Dow, of Brooks, with the following principal officers: W. C. T., A. W. Parker; W. V. T., Mrs. Clara Putnam; W. S., Mrs. Margaret F. Carville. Though starting with a small membership, the lodge is composed of good material and means business. It is to be called "Dirigo," and the meetings are to be held Saturday evening.

Hancock.

The schooner Sarah, arrived at Isle au Haut from Portland with goods for W. G. Turner. After leaving the wharf they got on a ledge that the captain had forgotten was there, but they got off by the aid of kind friends, with slight damage.

Kennebec.

The Augusta Journal says it is very sickly in the city at present. There are quite a number of cases of lung fever and pneumonia. The doctor's sleigh in front of houses is a frequent sight. Fortunately we have been spared from any visitation of loathsome epidemics. In this Maine atmosphere, a careful attention to the laws of health is necessary in order to preserve the corpus in good condition.

The Augusta Journal says that Mrs. Elizabeth H. Gilbert, wife of Charles H. Gilbert, at Winthrop, lies at the point of death. She has been sick a long time, and is, literally starving to death, being entirely unable to take any nourishment except a little water.

Thursday evening, Jan. 13th, the friends of Rev. O. E. Young, of Mt. Vernon, to the number of about one hundred, made him a donation visit, and spending two hours of pleasant conversation, departed to their homes, leaving forty dollars, feeling that this had been a pleasant evening.

The Readfield market is out under a new name. Mr. Dana B. Page retires, and Mr. Albion Stevens, an old partner of Mr. Fagg, takes his place. The market will be under the name of Stevens & Brown.

Lincoln.

The News says Waldoboro people are working to promote the building of a spool thread factory.

The News says Mrs. Aaron Sherman, of Newcastle, died suddenly Friday night.

Oxford.

The Lewiston Gazette says that a young man named Virgin, started Jan. 8th to walk from Andover village to J. Thurston's logging camp, five miles. He did not reach there that night, and Sunday morning about 11 o'clock A. M., was found three-quarters of a mile from camp, in the road, unconscious, but not badly frozen, and was taken to the Andover House, where all efforts to revive him were unavailing and he died Sunday night.

Sagadahoc.

The Bath Times says Mr. Samuel Luce, one of the party of musicians who left this city last spring for Leadville, has returned home, arriving Wednesday night on the seven o'clock train. Mr. Louis Schoppe, also one of the party, came as far as New York, where he is visiting relatives, and will return to this city shortly. In speaking of the rest of the party, Mr. Luce says, they are doing nicely and will not come east this winter. Mr. Fen. G. Barker is playing and arranging music. Mr. Daniel Mayers, he reports, is doing the best of any of the party at work at his trade, joinering, also playing evenings. Mr. M. G. Reed is playing, also Mr. A. F. Mason. In reply to a question as to his returning there Mr. Luce says, "I guess not."

York.

The McKenney case occupied the attention of the York county court, Friday, and the case of the defence has not yet closed. The testimony offered Friday all went to show that Mr. McKenney was enjoying all his mental faculties when the will was made.

The Journal says the buildings of Jerome W. Cole, of Cornish, were burned recently.

The Journal says that Thursday evening a two-story house in No. Berwick, owned by Moses Furbush and occupied by E. Goodwin, was found to be on fire. The house, together with the ell and barn, which contained quite a quantity of hay, was speedily consumed. The property was insured for $2,500.

The Biddeford Journal says that a large lot of Southern oak ship timber lying in the Thompson yard, Kennebunkport, was recently sold on execution, in favor of H. Mehan, of Bath, vs. Nathaniel Thompson, at a price hardly sufficient to cover freight. In N. L. Thompson's yard there are two ship's frames awaiting the decision of our honorable court as to their ownership. During the meantime one of them has spoiled and the other is not much better off.

The Journal says that during the severe storm of Sunday night, January 9th, the house of Stephen Benson, of Parsonsfield took fire and burned to the ground. The old gentleman has lived alone for severe... years. He is hard of hearing and when he awoke he found the room in flames. He saved but a few of his household goods and no provisions. The house was not very valuable and was slightly injured.

NEW MAGAZINES.

The February number of HARPER'S MAGAZINE opens with an important paper entitled The Gospel History in Italian Painting, by the Rev. Henry Van Dyke, Jr., illustrated by pictures engraved from photographs of the original paintings, viz., Giotto's "The Entombment," Perugino's "Jesus Giving the Keys to Peter," Raphael's "The Transfiguration," and Paul Veronese's "The Feast of Levi." Mr. Conway's series of delightful papers on the English Lakes is concluded in this number. Mr. G. W. Sheldon contributes a second paper on the Old New York Volunteer Fire Department, illustrated with some very interesting pictures, including portraits of Thomas Franklin, Carlisle Norwood, John A. Cregier, George W. Wheeler, and Harry Howard. One of the most interesting of the illustrated papers of this number is that on Literary and Social Boston, by Geo. P. Lathrop. The article is full of the most entertaining gossip, with illustrations. Fine portraits are given of William D. Howells, E. P. Whipple, R. W. Emerson, C. E. Norton, T. B. Aldrich, James T. Fields, Edward Everett Hale, John Boyle O'Reilly, and Julia Ward Howe; and there are pictures of some charming interiors—Aldrich's study, a cosy corner in Mr. Howells' house, James T. Fields' study, etc. Miss F. E. Fryatt contributes a timely article on the Pottery industry in this country—devoting the greater portion of her space to the Trenton Potteries, which are very fully illustrated. The third instalment of Miss Woolson's novel Anne is given, with an illustration by Reinhart; and Hardy's "A Laodicean" is continued. Both these serials are works of unusual power. Puss Tanner's Defense, by Richard Malcolm Johnston, is a Georgia sketch, very strong, and full of humor. Mrs. Margaret S. McLean contributes a romantic short story entitled The Fire-Fly. Apropos of the recent publication of Trevelyan's Early History of Charles James Fox, Mr. John Bigelow, under the same title, contributes an admirable review of the career of that distinguished statesman. The Editorial Departments are full of fresh and interesting matter. The Easy Chair discusses Beaconsfield's latest novel, and gives a charming description of the first production, at the Academy of Music, of Boito's opera Mefistofele.

IGNORING TEMPERANCE AND EDUCATION.

It is conspicuously noticeable that the Fusionist Governor who found so much time and space in his Inaugural to lecture Gen. Garfield on propriety, to discuss the financial affairs of the United States and to advocate the doctrines of communism, had no word in behalf of Temperance or of the great Educational interests of the State. His brief reference to the Agricultural College and his desire to change the name of the Reform School cover the total of his allusions to the all-important interest of public education, not even a word being said in behalf of our common schools, which are the foundations of a republican government.

It is only a few weeks, comparatively, since Joshua Nye, Neal Dow and other Prohibitionist agitators were championing Plaisted as a better temperance man than Governor Davis, circulating scurrilous hand-bills abusing the Governor and doing all in their power to aid the election of the Fusion candidate. Nye declared that with the choice confined between the two he would vote for Plaisted rather than Governor Davis, and it has been boasted by the Nye-Dow faction that in Cumberland County alone about a thousand temperance votes were taken from Gov. Davis and given to Plaisted, on the ground that the former was not sufficiently radical to suit them.

Now, while Neal Dow's demand for a prohibitory Constitutional Amendment has been a matter of current comment, the Governor who received the benefit of all Mr. Dow's labors against the Republican party, does not mention the latter's hobby; and after all the virulence and stubbornness of the Dow-Nye bolt, which was intended to help elect Plaisted, the sole fruit of their vindictiveness is the first Inaugural Address of a Governor of Maine for a quarter of a century that has failed to make the slightest allusion to the cause of Temperance!

There can be no excuse of inadvertence or hasty oversight, for the Address was deliberately prepared and was in type long before its delivery; and the similar intentional ignoring of the entire subject of public school education, may perhaps cause Dr. Cheney and other Republicans who were so liberal in assurances that Gen. Plaisted would make an excellent Governor, to conclude that it is not over safe to volunteer recommendations for any man who would consent to be the candidate of the State Steal gang.

BUSINESS PROSPERITY IN 1880.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

In 1878, there were 10,478 failures in this country, with liabilities of $234,383,132. The resumption of specie payments reduced the number more than one-third in the first year, and the liabilities nearly five-eighths; in 1879 the failures were 6,658 and the liabilities $98,149,053. The second year of specie payments has done even better for the country, for a further reduction both in number of failures and in liabilities appears in the annual report of the Mercantile Agency. The failures in 1880 were only 4,535, and the liabilities only $65,752,000. We have to look back twelve years, to 1868, to find another return of liabilities as small, although the number of firms in business and the volume of business transacted have increased enormously within that period. To this great increase in the number of firms of which reports are made is due the fact that the number of commercial disasters appears larger than in 1872, though much smaller than in any later year. The ratio of failures to the whole number of firms in business was smaller in 1880 than it was in 1872 or 1870. In 1876 one out of sixty-nine of all the firms or persons in business was forced to suspend, and in 1878 one out of sixty-four. But the failures in 1880 were only one in 158.

If it were practicable to make a similar comparison between the aggregate volume of business transacted during certain years, and the liabilities of firms failing in those years, the result would undoubtedly be highly satisfactory as well as interesting. Exchanges at New York and other cities give some idea of the volume of business now, but were only little observed at other cities more than five years ago. Moreover, the volume at New York was greatly inflated from the close of the war until "Black Friday" by the continual and enormous speculation in gold. By comparison of the exchanges and other indications, however, it is made certain that the volume of business was more than twice as great in 1880 as in either of the years 1866-1868 inclusive, but the lowest amount of liabilities of firms failing in those years was $53,783,000, in 1866. Hence it is evident that the ratio of losses to volume of business transacted must have been smaller in 1880, by at least forty per cent., than in any other year since the war. There is similar conclusive evidence that the ratio of losses to business done was at least double that of 1880 in either of the years 1857-1861, inclusive. In short, it was evidently the most prosperous year in the history of the country. The geographical distribution of failures and liabilities is shown thus:

| States. | In business. | Failures. | Ratio. | Liabilities. | Average. |
| 1880. | | | | | |
| Eastern, | 85,744 | 723 | 1 in 118 | $6,460,117 | $8,935 |

| Dom. Can'a | 57,100 | 997 | 1 in 68 | 7,988,077 | 8,587 |
| 1879. | | | | | |
| Eastern, | 82,357 | 970 | 1 in 86 | $15,577,288 | $16,059 |
| Middle, | 230,537 | 2,290 | 1 in 100 | 35,534,191 | 15,517 |
| Southern, | 100,574 | 1,076 | 1 in 93 | 15,876,708 | 14,755 |
| Western, | 256,583 | 1,608 | 1 in 159 | 21,207,519 | 13,188 |

The number of firms or individuals reported in business increased from 1879 to 1880 over 44,000, or 6¼ per cent., but the number of failures decreased 1,923, or nearly 30 per cent. and the amount of liabilities $32,397,053, or over 30 per cent. It is an important fact, too, that the average of liabilities of firms failing is lower in 1880 than in any other recent year, showing that the greater proportion of failures were of small dealers. But the division by sections shows that the average and the amount of liabilities would have been very much smaller—the smallest, indeed, in any year on record—had not a few heavy failures in the Middle States swelled the reports for that section. It is worth noticing, as a proof of the great prosperity at the West, that the ratio of failures to firms in business, the amount of liabilities, and the average of liabilities to each failure, are lower in that section than ever before.

RIDICULOUS DEMANDS OF THE SILVER MEN.

[Wash. Cor. N. Y. Herald.]

The attempt of the unlimited silver dollar men to get a clause into the Funding Bill directing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay off bonds in silver to the extent of the silver dollars in the Treasury becomes ridiculous in view of the fact brought out by Mr. Chittenden, in his speech a week ago, that though there are over fifty millions of silver dollars in the Treasury, over forty-five millions of them are bound to stay there for the redemption of silver certificates. There are only about two and a half millions of silver dollars in the Treasury available for any use except to redeem outstanding silver certificates, and for this paltry sum, on which the cheat is only a trifle, the silver men would break the faith and impair the credit of the Government and cripple the refunding of the five and six per cents. This is a pretty fair example of the way in which the silver people study the real interests of the country.

WORSE THAN WASTE.

We can see no good reason why the Republican majority in the Legislature should vote any of the State's money to aid the circulation of Gen. Plaisted's Communistic address. The House order for the printing of 2,000 and the Senate order for the printing of 500 pamphlet copies for distribution, are based solely on a custom of indicating that the views of the Chief Magistrate are worthy of being circulated among the people. To pay the same compliment to a demagogue's harangue that assails the Constitution, insults the Supreme Court and proclaims the incendiary doctrines of warfare against all rights of property, is something that does not seem to us called for by usage or propriety. Beyond the expense of the official report in the Legislative journals the State of Maine should not pay one cent to perpetuate or distribute a document that is almost universally denounced as a disgrace to our civilization.

"NOT SO ALARMING AS DISGRACEFUL"

[From the Providence Journal.]

But Gov Plaisted "lets himself out" more unrestrainedly when he enters upon the discussion of monetary principles. He is in favor of a usury law. He would tax Government bonds; these latter, he contends, tend to create "a race of idlers, misers and cowards, a class of gilded paupers supported by the labor of this country." Who are the bondholders? In the main, the men who have accumulated their property by hard work and economy, and women and minors who are the lawful or equitable owners in part of the funds of banks and savings institution. Governor Plaisted would have the contract under which these bonds were brought annulled, would have them taxed, would declare that the faith of the United States Government is a matter of no consequence, would rob the holders to gratify a dishonest spasm of popular ignorance and communism. That Plaisted can be Governor is not so much alarming as it is disgraceful. Whatever explanations may be made, it is a warning that even under the enlightenment of New England, there are shadows which should abate our pride as well as stimulate our activities in behalf of a sensible and creditable political education.

GOVERNOR PLAISTED AND THE MESSENGERSHIP.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 17, 1881.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

Considerable has been said in the papers relative to the disagreement between the Governor and Council upon the appointment of Messenger; and as much which has been said is entirely at variance with the facts, and no paper has put the case just as it stands, I desire, as an act of justice, both to Major House, and to the members of the Council, to set forth, in brief, the exact condition of the case. It has been the universal custom, upon the assembling of a new Executive Council, for some member to introduce an order that some person therein named shall be the Messenger of the Governor and Council for the ensuing year, and until another is chosen in his place. It has also been the custom, when the appointee has discharged his duties satisfactorily, to give him a reappointment, provided the same party remains in power. In accordance with the custom the Council last year made choice, as Messenger, of Major Chas. J. House, a brave soldier of the war of the rebellion who received nine wounds in a single battle, serving with 18th Infantry, afterwards the First Heavy Artillery, from its organization in 1862 until the close of the war. Major House has discharged the duties of his position in a manner giving satisfaction not only to the Governor and Council, but to all who have had business with the Executive Department, and his reappointment was naturally regarded as a foregone conclusion. Upon the meeting of the present Executive Council the usual order was introduced, appointing a Messenger and in accordance with usage, and also because of his fitness for the position Major House was named as his own successor. The order was given an unanimous passage, but the Governor, contrary to custom, refused to give it his approval, claiming the right to himself designate the person who, from his position, becomes custodian of all papers before the Council; the Council-chamber being in his especial charge. Here the matter, for the present, rests, and Major House, by virtue of his appointment last year, is still performing the duties of his position. The Council are right in this matter, and they will not recede from their position. If Governor Plaisted desires to make his son his private Secretary he will have to create the position for him, as there is no such position existing, and no provision for the payment of such an official.

BOOKS RECEIVED.

The following books have been received from the Publishers, Roberts Bros., Boston, and are for sale at D. Bugbee & Co.'s:

THE ACTOR AND HIS ART, by C. Coquelin, of the Comedie Francaise, Paris. Cloth, 63 pages, price 50 cents.

QUIET HOURS, a collection of poems. Cloth, 212 pages, price $1.00.

SANSKRIT AND ITS KINDRED LITERATURES, by Laura E. Poor. Cloth, 450 pages, price $2.00.

General Stewart L. Woodford, whose term of office as U. S. District Attorney for the Southern District of New York expired last Tuesday, was reappointed on Wednesday by Justice Hunt under section 793 of the Revised Statutes. Gen. Woodford has proved a most able and efficient District Attorney, as the records of the office show, and in addition to his arduous official labors he has placed the Republican party under a heavy obligation for the splendid services rendered by him in the East and West as a speaker during the 1880 campaign. A gallant soldier, an accomplished lawyer, and an orator of remarkable eloquence, Gen. Woodford will honor any position to which he may be called.

The full text of the recently negotiated treaties with China will be found on our first page to-day.

GEN. GARFIELD'S CABINET.

TWO MEMBERS PROBABLY CHOSEN.

SENATOR BLAINE TO BE SECRETARY OF STATE AND SENATOR ALLISON FOR THE TREASURY.

[Special to the Boston Journal.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. Although it has been stated that Senator Blaine was at Mentor, helping Gen. Garfield to construct his Cabinet, the Senator is in this city, and his friends do not appear to know anything about the construction of the Cabinet, except that they think he will be the incoming Secretary of State. Secretary Evarts is evidently of this opinion, as he has directed a clerk to close an official letter, which will be some weeks in reaching its destination, by saying: "This correspondence will be continued by my successor, Mr. Blaine."

THE TREASURY PORTFOLIO.

That Allison will be the Secretary of the Treasury is more than possible, and the three following good reasons are given for so thinking: In the first place, Garfield and Allison have been the closest of friends since 1865; in the second place, Garfield has decided that it will not do to take the Secretary of the Treasury from New York, and therefore he cannot appoint any Eastern man; in the third place, Allison, in the sixteen years he has been in Congress, has devoted his whole attention to financial and revenue matters. He has never made a speech either in the House or Senate that did not bear on matters naturally belonging to the Treasury Department. Every measure relating to bonds, taxes, revenues, silver currency, tariff, and so on, has had his undivided attention. He, Gen. Schenck and the late Samuel Hooper of Boston, spent a great many months on the first Internal Revenue bill, and to them we owe the law for taxing whiskey and tobacco and also for using stamps and establishing penalties. Allison is an admirable man for executive work, and no man in Congress is more conscientious and industrious in his duties. He is rarely absent from the Chamber, and never misses a committee meeting.

SINGULAR COINCIDENCES.

Mr. Blaine's friends are well pleased with the prospect that Allison will go into the Cabinet, and they quote many coincidences in the lives of Garfield, Blaine and Allison, who were sworn as members of the House on the same day, namely, Dec. 7, 1863. Thus entering Congress together, they have been the closest of friends ever since. Each was born on a farm, each taught school, each studied law, each went to the House of Representatives, and each was promoted to the Senate. Allison was born in 1829, Blaine in 1831 and Garfield in 1831. Allison looks younger by five or ten years than either of the others. It would be singular but not surprising if these three men's relations should become even more intimate by Cabinet associations.

WE OBJECT.

An Augusta special says: "The probability now is that the question of who shall be Messenger to the Governor and Council during the next two years will be settled by the Council allowing the Governor to have a private secretary, and having a special appropriation made by the Legislature to pay for the same."

We object. Gen. Plaisted and his supporters have howled themselves hoarse in denouncing the Republicans for extravagance in raising the salary of the Governor from $1,500 to $2,000 per annum. Plaisted has all the benefit of that increase, and as Governor Davis with only $1,500 was not furnished with clerk or secretary, there is no sense in furnishing one to Plaisted who receives $2,000.

Ex-Governor Dingley well states the case in reply to the Argus, as follows:

"The messengership to the Governor and Council has not been usually selected by the Governor either as a matter of right or of courtesy. As a matter of fact the messenger has no more to do with the Governor than the Council, and does not act as the private secretary of either. During the war and immediately after, when the Governor had a large amount of correspondence, he had a private secretary; but for the past eight years our governors have had no private secretary, and no occasion for any."

It is stated that Pillsbury's Maine Standard newspaper establishment has been sold to Manley H. Pike, of Augusta who will take possession at once. He is a son of Daniel T. Pike, formerly editor of the Augusta Age.

Query: Where did the Boston Journal and Advertiser obtain an identically-worded abstract of Gov. Plaisted's Inaugural which contained only his routine recommendations and omitted all reference to his scandalous insult to the Court and his Communistic doctrines. As the papers contained precisely the same abstract, some one person must have prepared it. Will the Journal inform us who furnished it with that carefully pruned version?

A correspondent of a "figurative" turn writes us that of the Standing Committees of the House in the present Legislature 9 members are on three committees; 52 on two committees; 89 on three committees and 1 on no committee.

Why so silent? Gov. Plaisted's Inaugural was delivered last Thursday and yet up to the issue of the following Monday the editors of the Boston Herald apparently had not heard of it.

The Augusta correspondent of the Portland Argus patronizingly says of the Solon Chase Greenbackers at the recent conference: "The bolters were unassuming and willing to be forgiven," and "say they will not stray again from the path laid down by the majority." According to that "them steers" must have grown very docile.

DR. CHAS. CORNBLOOM,

Of BOSTON, Mass., Room 8, Herald Building, will be at the

BANGOR HOUSE ON THE 20TH OF JANUARY,

For SEVEN DAYS, for the Treatment and Cure of CATARRH, DIPHTHERIA, DEAFNESS, THROAT and LUNG DISEASES.

A New Triumph of Science! By Ozone Inhalation!

There is one thing among the latest discoveries in the Healing Art, that has created so much interest in the scientific world, or promises so much to relieve the suffering of humanity, as OZONE INHALATIONS. I have demonstrated this by my practice in Boston and Lynn, to the abundant [illegible] and relief of many sufferers. The painful fact is everywhere apparent that Catarrh, Bronchitis, and Consumption, with other dreaded diseases, are frightfully on the increase, while the administration of medicines has been comparatively powerless to combat with its fatal progress. OZONE INHALATION has no equal where the east winds prevail and the climate is changeable. It will Prevent and cure Catarrh, Headache, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Diphtheria, and all diseases of the throat and lungs.

DIPHTHERIA.

I would call attention to the wonderful cures performed in that dread disease, which cannot prevail where these inhalations are used, as they immediately destroy the germ of the disease.

TESTIMONIALS.

I desire to refer to the following well-known persons who have been cured of Catarrh:

H. B. Allen, of the N. E. Trust Company.
L. W. Burlen, of the Columbian National Bank.
Henry L. Jewett, of the International Trust Company.
Mr. Giddings, of the firm of Tower, Giddings & Co.
Steinberger Brothers, Devonshire Street.
Mr. Ewel, of the Revere Bank.
G. O. Sanborne, of the Beef Packing Company, 187 Congress St.
S. F. Barker, Supt. of the Emery Cloth and Paper Mystic Manufacturing Company.
Solomon Hancock, Successor to Wm. F. & Geo. Draper, No. 76 State Street.
W. W. Kimball, of the Fourth National Bank.
Mr. Duffield, of the North American Bank.
R. C. Daniel, President of the State Nat'l Bank, Memphis, Tenn.
The Right Honorable Sir H. Barcklay, K. C. B.
The Right Honorable Sir Charles Hotham, K. C. B.
The Right Honorable Sir John Thomas Smith, K. C. B.

465 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON, Sept. 20, 1879.

DR. CORNBLOOM:—Dear Sir: Allow me to express my gratitude to you for having so speedily and effectually cured me of that much to be dreaded disease, Catarrh.

I was troubled with it for many years, and had consulted many physicians, and tried almost all well-known patent remedies, as seen advertised, but not the slightest benefit did I receive till I called upon you, from which time, thank God, I began steadily to improve, and am now as well as ever I was in my life. I believe the cure is permanent, as I have had several bad colds since without any return of the catarrh.

M. W. OVERTON.

105 COMMERCIAL ST. BOSTON, MASS., Jan. 21, 1878.

I, Z. K. Doane, do hereby certify that I have used Dr. Charles Cornbloom's Catarrh Remedy with entire satisfaction, and anyone suffering with this disease I would advise them to try it.

Z. K. DOANE.

LYNN, March 10, [illegible].

This certifies that I have used Dr. Charles Cornbloom's Ozone Inhalation for my Catarrh and deafness, and have been cured in three months,

T. A. [illegible].

LYNN, Nov. 11, [illegible].

I have used Dr. Cornbloom's Ozone Inhaler for Catarrh, and it has cured me, and am satisfied it is the best thing that a person can use. I would recommend all persons suffering with Catarrh to use it.

NATHAN BROWN,
Clerk at Charles Buffum & Co's.

BOSTON, June 4, 1880.

I do hereby certify that I have used Dr. Charles Cornbloom's Ozone Inhaler for the cure of my Catarrh, and can say that it has cured me in three months.

Yours Respectfully,
GEORGE C. MAYNARD.

WEST POINT ACADEMY.

Report of the Board of Visitors.

Senator Edmunds on the Whittaker Case.

Three Reports Made.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. Senator Garland on the part of the Congressional members of the Board of Visitors to the West Point Academy to-day submitted a report signed by himself and Representative Phillips, another signed by Senator Edmunds and still another signed by Representatives McKinley and Felton.

Garland and Phillips devote considerable space to the question of the admission of colored Cadets. No solid reason, they say, why colored boys should not receive full and equal advantages in the way of education, military and all other kinds, with white. Respecting the question of raising the standard of admission they favor a low standard.

Senator Edmunds

expresses opinion that the standard of of admission ought to be raised. Investigation, he says, has convinced him that youths of the African race have not received the same treatment, at least from their fellow-cadets, that they would have received had they been of the white race, but each colored boy had found himself isolated continually from his fellow-cadets, a prisoner in solitary confinement in the midst of his fellow-cadets.

Referring to the Whittaker Inquiry

Senator Edmunds says: The conduct of the case was such as to place Whittaker in a false position in the beginning. If white Cadets can be exculpated on their mere declaration that they were free from complicity in the outrage, the same theory ought to apply to Cadets of the colored race; but he does not think well of the theory in any case. Any one who would commit such an outrage would deny it. He concludes by remarking that there is no insurmountable obstacle to the correction of existing evils at the Academy, and if this cannot be accomplished it should be a matter of serious consideration whether such an institution ought not to be abolished.

Attempt to Head Off Gen. Howard.

A bill introduced by Senator Garland provides that hereafter no officer above the rank of Colonel shall be assigned to duty at the Military Academy. The last section of the bill provides for the appointment of a Professor of German at the Academy.

GEN. GRANT.

Reception at Albany.

ALBANY, Jan. 17. The reception to Gen. Grant this afternoon was a great demonstration and 70,000 people were in the streets. Nearly all the buildings along the line of march were decorated with flags etc. The parade of military was large and imposing.

Departure of Gen. Grant.

General Grant left the city for Albany at 10.30 this morning via the New York Central railroad in a special car. A large crowd greeted him at Poughkeepsie. He shook hands with many but made no speeches.

BEN BUTLER.

Nominated by the Democrats for Senator.

BOSTON, Jan. 17. The Democratic Legislative caucus this afternoon nominated Gen. Butler for U. S. Senator. After the first ballot they will be ready to combine with Republicans on any anti-Dawes candidate who may be proposed.

THE WHITTAKER CASE

Ex-Gov. Chamberlain and a Prominent Democrat to Defend Him.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. Arrangements for counsel in the Whittaker court-martial have finally been made. The defence will be conducted by Hon. James A. Whitney, of New York, and Ex-Governor D. H. Chamberlain, who was previously retained. Mr. Whitney is a life-long Democrat, and the fact that he takes a leading part in the management of the case is thought to forecast a temperate vigorous defence on the actual merits of the matter with as little reference to the color line as possible.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEP'T, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., Jan. 18—(1 A. M.)

Indications.

For New England: Clear or fair weather, northerly to westerly winds, no decided change in temperature, rising barometer on the coast.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Brief Notes.

MANCHESTER, Jan. 17. The boy injured by the explosion at Salford last week is dead. The keeper of a beer house in the neighborhood states that two men visited his house for a drink and left two parcels saying they would call for them in the evening. One parcel, he says, contained wet mortar with a towel stuck in it, and the other what felt like a canister. The men returned according to agreement and the explosion occurred half an hour after they left the house with the parcels.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 17. General Skobeleff estimates the Tekkef Turcomans to be 20,000 strong. They have excellent rifles but only a few cannon. The Russian artillery men captured with their guns by the Turcomans were all massacred.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 17. The steamer Toronto, from Portland, lost 114 cattle and 200 sheep on her passage.

LONDON, Jan. 17. The Southport and West Lancashire Banking Co., limited have suspended payment.

By a railway accident at Wakefield, Yorkshire, seven persons are reported killed and thirty to forty injured.

The mercury last night stood at 2 to 5 above zero; to-day about 12 above. In Wales it is 5 below. A heavy snow storm prevails in Wales.

BERLIN, Jan. 17. Fifty thousand marks have been subscribed towards the founding of an anti-Jewish newspaper, a majority of the Berlin journals being decidedly against the anti-Jewish movement.

DURBAN, Jan. 17. It is rumored that the British troops have made two sorties from Pretorias, both of which were repulsed by the Boers.

THE HEIGHT OF HAPPINESS.

Is the restoration of a woman after years of sickness to perfect health. Imagine then the joy of the family of Mrs. ——, of Kingston, who had suffered untold misery for over five years, consequent upon the Diseases and Weaknesses peculiar to Females. She was induced to try Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." After using only two bottles, all her ailments disappeared, and she says that she feels and considers herself in perfect health.

About forty members of Oriental Lodge I. O. O. F., of this city, attended the funeral of Capt. Samuel H. Holbrook, in Brewer yesterday afternoon.

Parties in Portland and Lewiston carried on conversation Saturday by means of the telephone, which was connected with the telegraph wire. The distance is fifty miles, yet the conversation was perfectly distinct.

In the Supreme Judicial Court Room yesterday Chief Justice Appleton reviewed the docket and assigned cases for the April term. Several divorces were also granted. The Court will come in again Wednesday.

The two days' meeting of the Penobscot Valley Association will commence in Hampden to-day and a number of Universalist ministers will attend. The omnibus will start from A. E. Pote's store at half-past twelve o'clock.

Eight cars are to be built at the Eastern Railroad car shops at Salem this season, to be used for next summer's travel. They will be on the same plan as the last two built last year, finished in black walnut, and having curtains instead of wooden shutters.

Louis Wagner, of Philadelphia, Commander in Chief, G. A. R.; Edgar D. Swain, of Chicago, Senior Vice Commander in Chief, and Rev. Jos. F. Lovering, of Worcester, Mass., Chaplain in Chief, will be present at the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Rockland next month, Feb. 21st and 22nd.

The prizes offered to Maine boys under eighteen years of age who should raise the most Indian corn on one-eighth of an acre, have been awarded, the first of $200 to F. F. Small of Stockton, who raised 2,256 lbs, the second of $50 to Frank L. Jordan, son of Isaiah Jordan of Brunswick, who raised 1,9.. lbs.

NUMBER ONE. The first dance in the series under the auspices of the Ladies' Relief Corps will take place at Unity Hall this evening. Music will be furnished by Files' Orchestra of five pieces. It is the intention of the managers to make this course a social and popular one and no pains will be spared to accomplish this purpose. Refreshments will be served free at intermission.

THE SENATE CHAMBER was on Friday afternoon taken in possession by the re-furnishers. The carpet was taken up and the desks scraped, preparatory to revarnishing. The new carpet was placed upon the floor Saturday. It is of a cheerful tone, and with the new chairs and blazing fires in the fire-places will make the room very inviting. The chairs are of black walnut, with leather bottoms, and very comfortable.

HOME BY MOONLIGHT. If the weather is favorable this afternoon it is thought that about fifty couples will go out to Kenduskeag on the ride. Arrangements have been made for an excellent supper after the arrival of the party, and then the remainder of the evening will be passed in dancing, or other amusements. Five pieces of Andrews' Orchestra will furnish music. This will probably prove the ride of the season and a delightful time is anticipated.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE. Josiah C. Bartlett, of Taunton, has signified his purpose of presenting to the Dartmouth College gallery of paintings a portrait of his great-grandfather, Josiah Bartlett, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence from New Hampshire, and also the last President and first Governor of the State. He was a Trustee of the College from 1790 to 1794. The original painting of Governor Bartlett, by Trumbull, is at Stratham, in the Bartlett family.

YOUNG MEN'S CATHOLIC INSTITUTE.—The second meeting of the Young Men's Catholic Institute was held Sunday evening in the basement of St. John's church. Mr Geo. W. Chaplain was elected President of the Institute. About two hundred members are now enrolled. The object is the moral and intellectual improvement of young men. Apartments of suitable size will be hired, and fitted up with a reading room, gymnasium, etc. Literary exercises will be given once a week. Committees now have the necessary arrangements under advisement.

BOARD OF AGRICULTURE. A farmers institute was held at Monmouth last Friday, which was well attended and very interesting. In the forenoon a lecture on manure wastes was given by Secretary Gilbert; in the afternoon a lecture on factory cheese making by F. Barnes, of Houlton, and in the evening one on the relations of our common schools to agriculture, by Geo. E. Brackett, of Belfast. Each lecture was followed by short discussions. The annual session of the Board will be held at Augusta this week Wednesday and Thursday.

BOWDOIN COLLEGE. At a meeting of the base ball association, held Saturday afternoon, the report of the committee appointed last Wednesday to revise the old constitution and by-laws, was listened to. The different articles and sections were discussed and the report finally accepted after a few changes had been made. The article most debated upon was one in reference to membership. It was finally decided that each student should become a member of the association provided that he contributed annually for its support a sum not less than one dollar. The object of the new revision of the constitution is to make the support of the nine voluntary.

The new cotton mill at Waterville will be larger than was first proposed. The amount of stock has been increased to $800,000 to supply the demand. Captain A. H. Kelsey of Lewiston is to superintend the building of this mill.

OBITUARY. Mrs. General Thom died very suddenly at her residence in Portland at half-past six, Saturday evening. Although she had suffered for two or three days from a very severe headache, such as she had been accustomed to for years, she was very much relieved on Friday and her recovery was confidently expected until the very sudden and alarming change in symptoms, which occurred a few hours before her death. A post-mortem examination confirmed the opinion expressed by her physician that her death was caused by a sudden effusion of water at the base of the brain. Mrs. Thom possessed rare qualifications as a society leader, and her hospitality was noteworthy.

COASTING. The weather last evening was very pleasant and coasting parties were numerous. After travel had ceased on the streets, a party of ladies and gentlemen came down on Hammond street hill and had a fine time with a large double runner. They would start on the top of Hammond street hill, slide down opposite the WHIG office and then jump into a double sleigh and ride to the top of State street hill. On the return trip they would go as far as Wheelwright, Clark & Co.'s old block and then ride up the other hill. Quite an improvement on the old style of sliding, namely, ride down the hill and walk back.

CHECKERS. The checker-playing tournaments, this season, are confined to impromptu contests in the dark corners of stores. The checker enthusiasm, which mounted to such a height, two winters ago, when famous checker champions wrestled over the board, blindfolded, and performed other wonderful feats with the red and white, has since been steadily waning. There are some aspiring amateurs in town, who once in a while tackle some innocent looking unknown, who throws cold water on their ambition. The checker problem is still unsolved, and will furnish hard knots for the minds of many generations of checker-players, whose eyes haven't yet seen the board.

A NEW USE FOR TELEPHONES. An old gentleman with a big spreading ear-trumpet went into the central office of the telephone exchange, at Lewiston recently. He uncovered the horn and asked to see the superintendent. Mr. King came forward and the stranger addressed him thus: "Mister, I've heard consider'ble about this 'ere telephone business. I've been told they fix it so you can hear a person speak for twenty miles. Now I'm kinder hard of hearin' and I wish you would put the telephone rigging on my trumpet, so I can hear the parson preach Sundays." The old gentleman was as honest as could be about the matter, and it took Mr. King some time to make matters clear to him. He had probably been imposed on by some one.

THE SKATING RINK. The opening at the skating rink last evening was a success in every particular. The attendance was large, it being estimated that there were between two and three hundred persons present. The rink was lighted by numerous large lamps with reflectors, and Chinese lanterns and flags added brilliancy to the occasion. The St. John's Band furnished music during the evening, and as the ice was in excellent condition all enjoyed themselves hugely. Good order was maintained, and quite a large number of ladies were gliding about over the ice in company with some of the sterner sex, the whole forming a most exhilerating picture. We congratulate Mr. Parkhurst on the success of the affair, and hope that his admirable effort to supply a long felt want will be fully appreciated, and that the rink will be well patronized the remainder of the season.

THE COST OF A MAN'S DRESS. "What does it cost to dress a man in the height of fashion?" a Sun reporter asked of a Fifth avenue tailor. "About $700 a year," was the reply. "But if a man is to indulge in $300 fur coats and a variety of fine silk neckties and an assortment of fancy pantaloons his bills will run up much higher. Notwithstanding all that is said of the extravagance of women's dress, it costs quite as much to furnish stylish clothes to men as to women. The reason is that a man cannot have his clothes made over as a woman can. If his clothes get out of fashion they are useless to him. But the clothing of women can be made over to suit new fashions year after year. Their laces and ribbons, feathers and trimmings of all kinds, reappear constantly in new forms. If a woman has a splendid wedding dress, for instance, she keeps it for years and wears it on state occasions. But a man's wedding suit must be worn out before it goes out of fashion. Among the poorer classes the women always dress better than the men in the same station in life. They will seize upon a fashionable style and make up old materials in the new shapes with marvelous aptitude. Men do nothing of this kind, and that is the reason why, as a rule, they do not follow the fashions as scrupulously as women."

FOR THE LADIES. The Japanese way of arranging a flowering branch in a vase instead of a bunch of flowers is coming into favor. The Byron collar is fashionable for ladies. It is made of thin muslin, and is either hem-stitched or embroidered. Scarf pins are headed with silver or orange blossoms, and have three or four orange flower buds pendant from them. Flowers are more used for table decoration this season than ever before, but they are massed rather than spread about. The Newmarket coat has quite superseded the ulster as a street garment. It fits closely and looks well on a slender figure. The square collars and cuffs which were worn a few years ago are coming in again. They are made of Valenciennes and lace. Striped mull is made into kerchiefs to be worn outside the cloak in the street. The borders are scalloped and dotted with needlework. The most elegant collars are of plaited muslin, bordered with lace. They are very deep, and seem old-fashioned to the uninstructed. A pretty decoration for a glove-box cover is half a kid glove, with all the seams worked in flowers, and with two flower bracelets on the wrist. Camellias are coming into favor again, but the most desirable flowers are the early spring blossoms, tulips, crocuses, narcissi and the lilies of the valley. Almost the only gold ornament used by the milliners is a gold nail, which serves as a bonnet-rest, or a gold-headed pin, by which the bonnet is fastened to the head. One of the new collars is of plush, covered with Alencon point and bordered by two or three rows of the same lace. These collars are worn with both silk and woolen dresses. Bonnets are made by ingenious young ladies from their brothers' stovepipe hats. They are cut and twisted and trimmed, and by spending ten dollars' worth of time upon them are made to look half as well as a three-dollar bonnet.

THE ICE BUSINESS.

The New Endless Chain at the Penobscot River Company's Houses.

Yesterday afternoon a representative of the WHIG visited the ice houses of the Penobscot River Company to witness the operation of their endless chain, which was started yesterday for the first time. This company is the first to introduce the endless chain on the Penobscot, and those who are not familiar with its operation will feel amply repaid by driving down to the houses some fine afternoon, as it is exceedingly interesting to watch the ice move up the elevator, drop into the different runs and then slide off into the houses.

The chain is five hundred and forty feet long and passes up one side of the elevator and down the other, so that it keeps the ice in constant motion. The power is furnished by an engine at the foot of the tower, a belt one hundred and twelve feet long passing from the driving wheel to a friction machine at the extreme top of the tower, where a man is stationed who controls the chain, stopping or starting it by means of a lever. A small bell is arranged in this little room, which is rung by means of mall cords, one of which passes down the tower, so that the men on any of the runs can reach it, and the other out where the ice is first started on the slip. If there is any trouble this bell is rung and the man in the tower at once stops the chain and holds it motionless until signaled to start. This is all done independent of the engine which is kept in motion all the time.

The tower is fifty-five feet high and the elevator leads from this to the water's edge, the decent being quite steep. The chain passes up around the foot of the elevator, which is in the water, and the men stationed there have a cake of ice in readiness, so that the cross bars on the chain come against the ice and slide it up the sluice. These bars can can be placed at any distance apart on the chain, but at present they are gauged at eight feet. The chain will take up fifteen cakes of ice a minute, but yesterday they were only taking the ice in at two houses, consequently they were unable to receive it so fast, and only loaded every other bar, which gave them seven cakes a minute.

There are several runs in the elevator, one about seven feet above the other, so that when the houses are filled as high as as the first run, they take the ice up to the next. For instance: When they are working on the first run a section of the sluice is taken out and what is termed an iron dump put in its place. The ice then comes sliding up the sluice with the wooden bar behind it, strikes the dump and is tipped through the opening and then follows another sluice into the houses. There are three doors along the face of the houses and men stationed at each, who turn a cake of ice into the first door, then into the second and so on. When the houses are filled up to the first run the section of the sluice is replaced, and the ice slides up to the second run, when it is again tipped by means of the dump. If the cake happens to be dirty or imperfect in any way, it is permitted to run along the sluice unobstructed, and falls off the end of the wharf.

The beauty of this chain is that it does the work without any break, the ice being on the move every moment. It is estimated that the cakes of ice will average five hundred pounds, and as the chain will carry fifteen cakes a minute, that would enable them to house 7500 pounds a minute if they were pushed for time.

The erection of the entire machinery was planned and superintended by Messrs. Bacon, Robinson and Albert Field, and reflects the highest credit on their mechanical ability. One of the gentlemen once examined similar machinery on the Kennebec, in the summer months, when of course it was idle, and with the exception of this they had nothing to guide them save their own good judgment; but so accurately was all the work done that the machinery is now running just like a clock. The Arctic Company have taken their measurements from this company and expect to have their machinery running next week.

We are pleased to note these improvements in an industry which promises to prove of great importance to our city. As we have already stated, we possess excellent facilities for establishing a permanent ice business here, and the introduction of this modern machinery shows that these companies at least mean to improve them.

AROOSTOOK FARMERS.

The Prosperity of Aroostook County.

A correspondent of the Boston Journal, writing from Aroostook county, says:

"The past two years have been the best that farmers have seen for years in Aroostook. There has always been considerable wheat raised in Aroostook, but the business depressions led to a much wider culture than there has been for years. Now nearly every farmer can say that he raises his own bread, and many have a surplus to sell. This change gives all farmers the money for other uses which a few years since was sent outside to purchase flour. The railways have also made potatoes a commodity of money value, which was never the case before their advent. Starch factories have made a market for hundreds of thousands of bushels; but in Northern Aroostook, it is said, that with the factories and all that the railroads can take away, thousands of bushels will be fed to stock. The difficulty in the shipment of potatoes from Fort Fairfield, Caribou, etc., is that the railroad from those places to Woodstock, N. B., is a narrow gauge, necessitating a breaking of bulk at that point, and much delay as well as risk of injury by frost.

One cannot pass through eastern Maine at this season of the year, without being impressed with the fact that the lumber interests have finally recovered from the paralysis which fell upon that industry from 1874 to 1879. No interest suffered the effect of the business depression more keenly, for, while the country could not get along without food and clothing, it could cease to build houses. The fact that it did so could be seen two years ago throughout the lumber regions of Maine. The depression of this business fell with great severity upon the eastern part of the State, where whole towns depend upon this business as the basis of all employment and business. But all this has changed. General activity is manifested at every point. On the tributaries of the Penobscot, the St. Croix, the St. John and other rivers large quantities of logs are being cut.

Along the line of the European and North American railway and the Canada and New Brunswick there are piles of short lumber, shingles, railroad ties, last blocks and hard wood for various purposes. Everybody who is disposed to work finds enough to do. Even the Greenbacker admits that better times have come and the disciples of Solon Chase that were wont to dispense financial heresies about the stoves of the country stores, are now without listeners, and are ridiculed by men who were either persuaded or half-persuaded to believe in financial lunacy. There never was a better winter for business. The snow fell upon well-frozen swamps, which made an excellent foundation, and although the weather has been cold, there has been just enough snow to make good "doing" and not enough to impede locomotion.

The tanning business carried on along the line of the European and North American railway at Houlton, New Limerick and other points was a godsend to the people during the long period of the lumber depression. It has given employment to hundreds of men who otherwise would have been almost without the means of a livelihood. The business is quite largely done with Boston capital. The competition has of late caused a decided advance in the price of hemlock bark, which is yet quite abundant.

PROPOSED VETERAN REUNION.

A Call from General Beal.

Adjutant General George L. Beal, has issued the following address to the veterans of Maine, accompanying a call for a meeting to be held in Grand Army Hall, Portland, Jan. 20th inst:

Headquarters "Executive Committee" Association of Me. Soldiers and Sailors, POSTLAND, December 30, 1880.

To the Veterans Soldiers of Maine:

A desire having been expressed by many of the veterans of the late rebellion that a general Reunion of Maine Soldiers should be held at some convenient location in the State during the summer of 1881, the Executive Committee of the Association of Maine Soldiers and Sailors, organized in 1875, and charged with the arrangements of the Grand Reunion of 1876, respectfully invite the attention of all interested, to the consideration of another similar gathering the coming year.

The organization represented by this Committee comprises all who were in the military or naval service of the United States from the State of Maine during the rebellion, and it is thought that an expression of the sentiment of the survivors could be better obtained through this Association than in any other manner, and therefore in compliance with the suggestion of the Executive Committee, the President, Gen. J. L. Chamberlain, has issued the accompanying call for a mass meeting, to be held at Grand Army Hall, Portland, January 20th, 1881, for the election of officers, and to consider the question of the proposed Reunion.

It is earnestly desired that there may be a full representation of the several veteran regimental organizations, either through a Committee selected for the purpose, or by their officers, and an invitation is also extended to all veteran soldiers as members of the general Association, whether connected with other organizations or not, to attend and express their views upon the subject. Persons receiving this circular and the call of the President, are requested to bring them to the notice of soldiers in their vicinity, in order that as many as possible may be informed of the meeting and its object.

Members attending the meeting from stations on the line of the Maine Central Railroad can obtain transportation to Portland and return at one fare for the round trip, upon application to the ticket agents.

Very respectfully, in behalf of the Executive Committee.

GEO. L. BEAL, Chairman.

A. M. SAWYER, Secretary.

Daring Deed at Niagara Falls.

During the last few days P. S. Cranz, D. Maloney and G. Whitman of the Erie railway have been bantering each other into various deeds of daring. Thursday afternoon the three men decided to attempt a fool-hardy feat. It was to place a sign on an old log in the middle of the river, 40 rods above the Goat Island bridge. The log lies in the centre of the rapids, and has been there for the last four years. During that time no one has ever been within reaching distance of it. The men conceived the brilliant idea of placing a large board sign on the log, advertising the railroad in whose employ they are. They set out on the ice, and, after much effort, they reached their destination. Here a sign 4 feet by 12 feet was securely spiked to the log, advertising readers to "Go East via Erie railway." Many speculations were indulged in by the spectators as to whether the men would be able to get back by the dangerous route already traversed. After two hours of labor, when the work was completed, shouts from the spectators announced that something was wrong. A glance showed that the ice was breaking up in all directions. In doing their work the men had moved the log, and, an opening being made, the rapid current soon finished the job. Though taken by surprise, the three adventurers did not lose their presence of mind. Hastily picking up some loose boards which they had cut from the sign, they started on the floating ice for the shore. By a skillful use of the boards as paddles, and a hard struggle, they reached the shore in safety. Cranz said he would not attempt the feat again for $1000.

FELLOWS' SYRUP

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonics to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully, JAMES I. FELLOWS.

The old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific FAVORITE REMEDY to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR a Bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David KENNEDY, Rondout, New York. jan6 d&wlm
